Dear Agnes Maria Sumargi
Dear Agustina Engry
Dear Josephine Maria Julianti Ratna
Dear Joana Variani

Thank you for choosing Jurnal Psikologi as the media for publishing your study. After checking the submitted revised version of the manuscript, we found some notes to be improved. Authors can view revision requests on attached documents or through OJS on the Jurnal Psikologi website.

Please pay close attention to revision requests from us that can be seen in detail in the comment bubble in the attached document, and please revise the request. If the author has better alternatives than our revised requests and suggestions, it is permissible to change accordingly. The author is requested to use track & change features for revising the manuscript to make it easier for us to check.

To accelerate the finalization process of the manuscript, please do final checking regarding the following standard of JP:

- All citations are written in the reference list; vice versa, all references in the reference list are cited in the manuscript. Moreover, use APA 7th edition for citation and reference style.
- Please use references from primary sources (article journals or proceeding) and within the last 10-years at least 80%

Hopefully, the notification and request for revision from us can be well understood and implemented as it should be for the continuity of the article publishing process in the Jurnal Psikologi. We look forward to receiving revised articles before September 28, 2022.

Dear esteemed author

We would like to inform you that we have finished layouting your manuscript. We would like to request you to proofread the layouted manuscript. Please do not change the manuscript directly, but do inform us which part to change using the comment section or by writing it on the last page of the manuscript. We would also inform you that in the final version of the manuscript, we may make changes outside of the manuscript content (ex: design, page number), without further information. We expect the proofreaded manuscript to be uploaded to OJS and informed to us by email, before December 19 2022.

Thankyou for your cooperation.

Warm regards

Dear Editor,

We agree with all the changes, including your comment in Table 3 that the unstandardized beta (B) should be changed into the little b (b). Please find the attached file, with our comments on the last page. Unfortunately, for some reason, we could not upload the file to the OJS (not sure why), we hope that you could help us. Thank you.
