English for Kindergarten Students.

Thesis Statement : English should not be taught to kindergarten students.

Introduction :

Global market is going to be opened in 2004, and people from all over the world are deliberately come and go from one country to another. In this case, English as the international language has important role because most of people speak English. That's way we are as Indonesian have to learn English on purpose that we can survive and compete with other people in global market. This situation has forced many school in Indonesia to have a curriculum that teaches English; therefore, the graduated students will have good knowledge about English. The effect is more school in Indonesia give English subject even more in kindergarten. Actually English is good for children, but English should not be taught in kindergarten. There are several reason why English should not be taught to kindergarten students.

Body :

- I. Kindergarten students are too young to be forced to learn English.
- II. If English is taught more frequent in kindergarten, most of students will forget their National language
- III.

Conclusion :

There is no mistakes when we learn English because it is better in giving us more knowledge and also as an investment ^{to make us} can survive and compete with other people from all over the world. However, it must be considered about the learners because if English is taught in unappropriate age, the result will not be good. In this case, kindergarten students are too young to be forced to learn English because it is like burden for them. Besides by giving English more frequent, it makes the students indirectly leave their National language, even forget it.

English for Kindergarten Students.

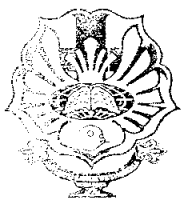

Global market is going to be opened in 2004, and people from all over the world ~~are~~ deliberately come and go from one country to another. In this case, English as the international language has important role because most of people speak English. That's way we as Indonesian have to learn English on purpose that we can survive and compete with other people in global market. This situation has forced many schools in Indonesia to have a curriculum that teaches English; therefore, the graduated student will have good knowledge about English. The effect is more schools in Indonesia give English subject, even more in kindergarten. Actually English is good for children, but English should not be taught in kindergarten. There are several reason why English should not be taught to kindergarten students. x

Kindergarten students are children from three up to six years old. That's way they are too young to be forced learn English. In these ages, most of children like playing with their friends to learning English. For many children, learning is a ~~burden~~ because it will take their time to play. If learning English is burden for them, the effect is the children are easily get bored. Or these children will get bored when they have grown up because they have learnt English more frequently. For example, when A in kindergarten up to junior high school, he always gets good mark in English but when in senior high school he felt bored because most of his friend don't have good English.

These years, many kindergarten apply English as the important aspect in teaching learning activities; therefore, many kindergarten use English as language for communication. It means that every session, students will apply English to communicate with their friends or teacher. If English is taught more frequent in kindergarten, students will forget their national language. It will be a serious problem because if students use English in every occasion and less use Bahasa Indonesia; Indonesia language will be left and the result is Indonesian will lose its original. Besides, if they learn English more than Bahasa Indonesia, they will be influenced with its language especially ~~its~~ ~~word~~ its culture and the result they will have a lifestyle like English culture that sometimes isn't appropriate to be applied in Indonesia.

There is no mistake when we learn English because it is better in giving us more knowledge and also as investment so, make us can survive and compete with other people from all over the world. However, it must be considered about the learners because if English is taught in unappropriate age, the result will be not good. Conclusion

Why People Should Not Get Married Until They Are at Least Twenty Five Years Old.

Nowadays, more and more people choose not to get married at a young age. Even though they already have a boyfriend or a girlfriend and have a serious relationship, they do not want to straightly get married. They usually postpone their wedding until they are ready to settle down or they wait until they are twenty five years old because it is the suitable age to get married. There are several reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

The first reason is it is likely a divorce will happen. At first, they are still blinded by love. The thought of living together and settling married excites them. Actually, they are not prepared to enter a married life. They do not realize about the responsibilities and the consequences of getting married. Besides, people below twenty five are usually not mature yet, they are still emotional, so it is likely a conflict will occur. Finally, a divorce is unavoidable.

The second reason is they are not ready financially. People usually start their career when they are 23 or 24, after they graduate from university. Therefore, they do not have a good career yet. Their income is not enough to pay for the household expenses, especially if they have a baby. This thing can also precipitate a problem. A research shows that unsuccessful marriages are also caused by financial problem, so, if you are financially insecure, do not get married.

The third reason is twenty five is simply the ideal age to get married. Supposing human is a fruit, it is said that the fruit becomes ripe at a certain period. The period when we are ripe is when we reach twenty five. So, why should we pick the fruit when it is still sour when we can wait until it is ripe and becomes sweet? The same with marriage, why should we get married at a young age and risk all the bad things when we can wait until at least we are twenty five and enjoy the sweetness of life?

Least but not last, especially for women, it is more risky for you to give birth at a young age. Research shows that the risk of death for both the mother and the baby is higher on women who give birth at a young age than women who give birth at a proper age. So, it is also a good reason for you to get married until at least you are twenty five.

Besides the reasons above, ^x there are still many reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old. The reasons, of course, are varied from one person to the other. However, if you decide ^{not} to get married until you are really ready or until you are twenty five, it will be a very good decision to make.

Everyone wants to live happily together with his beloved person forever, and many people wait for the time they can get married to enter on a new life. In fact, many spouses get divorced each year and many children become lacking of their parents' love and attention. These facts may be an obstacle ^{or worry} when someone decides to get married. He may be afraid of getting divorced someday in the future. It may be a consideration for him not to get married. Then, many people are not wanting to get married now. This ^{reality} can be avoided by having a suitable age for getting married. In my opinion people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

Body:

- I. The first reason why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old is because of the maturity ~~reason~~.
- II. Then, when a person reaches the age of twenty five, he must be economically mature.
- III. The last is because they are responsible enough to educate the children and control the household.

Conclusion

In conclusion, there are some reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty-five year old. The reasons are because of the maturity reason, both of psychologically or mentally and economically, and the last is because twenty five year old people are responsible enough to educate the children and control the household.

The Suitable Age for Getting Married

Everyone always wants to live happily together with his beloved person forever, and many people still wait for the time they can get married to enter on a new life. In fact, many spouses around the world get divorced everyday and many children become lacking of their parents' love and attention. These facts may be obstacles or worries when someone decides to get married. He may be afraid of getting divorced someday in the future. It may be a consideration for him not to get married. Then, other people may feel the same way, too, and now, people are not wanting to get married. Actually, this reality can be avoided by having a suitable age for getting married. In my opinion, people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

The first reason why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old is because of the maturity reason. When people are reaching the age of twenty five, they must be mature enough psychologically and mentally to make an important decision of getting married. They are ^{considered to be} able to handle everything about married life. They can consider about what will happen if they get married later. They can use their mind to predict the effects, both of the bad or good, for themselves. So, a twenty-five year old person is mature enough to enter on a new life. He has quite a lot of experiences in his life that may help him to be responsible to his decision.

The second is because of the economically reason. To build a family, it needs an amount of money whether the couple has children or not. At the age of twenty five, a person is established in life. He can earn some money to afford the household. Many divorce cases happen because the husbands cannot finance the family. It is important for a man to have a job that can make him able to fund the family, and if it is possible, before the age of twenty-five a man may have his own business. I tell this because there are many workers or employees are fired because of the economical situation of our country. How if it happens to a father who has three children? Of course, the family will have a difficulty in earning some money.

The last is because they are responsible enough to educate the children and control the household. Mature people are more responsible to what they have decided. The wives should take care of the children, and the most important, is to give them ^{enough} attention and love. The older she is, the more motherly she is. The same way with the husbands. They should take responsibilities on their children, too. They should be good fathers for the children after the age of twenty five. Twenty five year old people are wise enough to ^{try to} give the children moral education. So that the children may grow with high moral awareness as the next generation.

In conclusion, there are some reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five year old. The reasons are because of the maturity reason, both of psychologically or mentally mature and economically mature, and the last is because twenty five year old people are responsible enough to educate the children and to control the household. By getting married at least of the age of twenty five, we can build a happy family ~~life~~.

The Suitable Age for Getting Married.

Marriage is a legal union before a man and a woman can become a husband and a wife. Getting married is a first step before a man and a woman are entering their marriage-life. Getting married is also one of the sacred thing in the whole life, so it should be done in once in lifetime. But nowadays, we often see that there are many couples who get divorce. They are easily to get married, but they are also easily to get divorce. One of the reason why many people are easily to get divorce because they are getting married in early age. In early age, they are still not mature enough. There are some reason why people should not get married til they are at least twenty five years old.

TS₁: They are not mature enough to know the truth meaning of marriage.

TS₂: they do not have enough to finance their family ^{by} themselves

TS₃: They cannot be independent.

In conclusion, there are three reason why people should not get married til they are at least twenty five years old. First is, they are not mature enough know the truth meaning of marriage life. second is they do not have enough come to finance their family by themselves, and the third is they are too young, so cannot be ^{independent}. Hence, if you want to get married before twenty five years old, you have to think twice.

They are easily to get married but they are also easily to get divorce. One of the reasons why many people are easily to get divorce is because they are getting married in early age. In early age, they are still not mature enough. There are some reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

The first reason is before twenty five years old, they are not mature enough to know the truth meaning of marriage life. They do not know that marriage life is not just about being a husband and a wife and living together. Marriage life is more complex. It should have a lot of understanding and knowing each other. Moreover if they have children later on, they should give attention more to their children. Before twenty five years old, they ^{usually} still have their selfishness, especially for a man. For example, they still want to have some fun. They do not want to give attention more to the family.

The second reason is before twenty five years old, a person, especially for a man, is usually do not have a lot of income, so they cannot finance their family. A man before twenty five years old usually do not have enough income to finance their family. For example, after graduating from university, a man works in a company, he is still twenty two years old. He has just been working. He doesn't have enough money to finance himself, moreover if he has a family. Usually, most of the couples are getting divorced because of the financial problems. The wife thinks that her husband is not enough to finance herself and their children, so that she decides to get divorce. It happens more to the couples who married in early ages.

The third reason is because before twenty five years old, a person still cannot be independent. Sometimes they still depends on their parents. In our country, the minimum ages for woman to get married is 19 and for the man is 24. But however, in their early ages, they do not take care the family by selves they still need some support from the parents, although the financial and moral. If there is a couple who marriage in their early age, they still live with their parents. They need to be controlled by their parents. For example, my younger avnt, although she had married in twenty five years old, sometimes she needs my grandmother's help to watch off her children.

In conclusion, there are three reason why people should not get married if they are at least twenty five years old. First is, they are not mature enough to know the truth meaning of marriage life. Second is they do not have enough income to finance their family themselves and the third is they are too young to be independent. THE SUITABLE AGE FOR GETTING MARRIED

Marriage is a new start for someone to have a harmonious family. Even in some nations, marriage is a sacred moment, and when a couple get married, they can't be separated by anything or anyone, except by death. Nowadays, many people choose to get married at a young age, around 20 until 22, even around 17 years old. As a result, many divorces occur in young couple marriage, because in fact, they are not ready to have a family at a young age. In my opinion, the ideal age for a person to get married is at least 25 years old. People should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

People under 25 years old usually don't have a mature way of thinking about family

People under 25 years old usually don't have established life.

People under 25 years old should broaden their experience, and society

CONCLUSION

Marriage is not a game. If you feel you are not ready to get married, you should not get married. Think carefully about all consequences that you will face if you get married and don't make your marriage as a hell because of your unreadiness.

-- THE SUITABLE AGE FOR GETTING MARRIED --

Marriage is a new start for someone to have a harmonious family. Even in some religions, marriage is a sacred moment for a lifetime. And when a couple get married, they can't be separated by anything or anyone, except by death. Nowadays, many people choose to get married in young age, around twenty until twenty-two, even around seventeen years old. As a result, many divorces happen in young couple marriage because in fact, they are not ready to have a family in young age. In my opinion, the ideal age for a person to get married is at least twenty five years old. People should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

The first reason is because people under twenty five years old usually don't have a mature way of thinking about family. In my opinion, people under twenty five years old like to concentrate to their work, their study, and their friends. They are not ready to share their life just only to one person. And if this person forces himself to get married, the spouse will feel ignored. For example, a 21 years old man who has married prefers gathering with his friends than staying at home with his wife. The result is the wife feel ignored.

The second reason is because people under twenty five years old usually don't have established life. Why? Because most of them are still studying and get pocket money from their parents.

Your marriage is your own responsibility. If you don't have established life, established job, established income, how can you finance your family? You can't ask money from your parents.

In my opinion, if someone wants to get married, he should have an established life. For example,

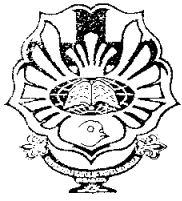

A person with an established job and good income, he can finance his family and fulfill the family need.

The third reason is because people under twenty five years old should broaden their experience and society. If you get married in young age, you have to think about the family income, how to take care your family, etc. and you don't have time to broaden your experience, even your society. As you young, try to get experience and friends as many as you can. For example, a young man who is not getting married, he can continue his study in the higher degree in the foreign country and get new friends, without concerning about wife and children.

Marriage is not a game. If you feel you are not ready to get married, you should not get married. Think carefully about all consequences that you will face if you get married and don't make your marriage as a hell because your unreadiness.

The suitable age for getting Married

Introduction: Marriage is very important in this world. We don't want our marriage end up in divorce. People should not get married until they are twenty five years old, that's the suitable age for getting married. The reason are , because they already mature enough and the second is they will financially and materially. Prepared

1: The first reason is because when couple reach the age of twenty five years old, they are mature enough to build a family

2: The second reason is because they will be financially and materially Prepared.

Conclusion:

The Suitable age for getting married

Marriage is one of the most important things in the world. People respect marriage as something sacred. Many people ~~doesn't~~ know that marriage is something that has to be prepared very well to make it eternal. A lot of marriages end up in divorce ~~because~~ ~~they~~ didn't prepare it well, not only material but also mental.

In order to make a marriage successful, people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old. There are several reasons. The ~~first~~ reason is ~~because~~ at the age of twenty five, the couple is mature enough to build a family, and the ~~second~~ reason is at the age of twenty five, they are already prepared financially and materially.

The first reason ~~of~~ why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old is ~~because~~ people need time to be physically and mentally mature. Many ~~are~~ couples ~~failed~~ in their marriages

~~because~~ they are not mentally mature. They can not face all the temptations that occur in marriage.

At the age of twenty five, people will already have a lot of experience in facing all the temptations in life, ~~that~~ why they are ~~are~~ already mature enough to build a family. Maturity is very important in order to make a happy and successful family.

The ~~first~~ ~~reason~~ ~~is~~ ~~because~~ at the age of twenty five, people are and materially prepared. It needs a lot of money to build a family, because once they get married, they will face all the trouble by themselves and not depend on their parents any more. That's why they have to be financially and materially prepared. They have to work first, and earn money in order to build a family. Many marriages failed because of financial problem, once the couple can not face the financial problem they will argue and cause a divorce. At the age of twenty five, people are already prepared financially and materially, they have to prepare not only they have savings for the family, they already had a place to build a family. A good foundation in financial will help to make a happy family.

In conclusion, Marriage is very important and sacred to our life. We don't expect that our marriage to be failed. In order to make our marriage eternal, we have to be mentally & financially prepared. People should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old, they have to be prepared every thing well to make their marriage success. The reason is because at the age of twenty five they are mature enough to build a family. And the other reason is at the age of twenty five they will financially and materially prepared.

Getting Married

TOPIC : The Suitable Age for Getting Married.

Getting married is having a husband or wife. It is one commitment between two person to live together forever. It can be stated as a hard job and also an important thing in our life. It is cited like that because it must happen once in our life so we must prepare ourselves better in order to begin a new life. Of course, not all people can accept the changes easily in their life. In this term, we can say that getting married must be prepared best before. Having good preparation doesn't mean that everyone must be in twenty fives. It means that getting married needs other things in order to construct a new story in our life. There are some reasons people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

BODY :

i. Getting married needs a big responsibility in constructing a household that can be seen from the maturity.

ii. Getting married needs a good relationship.

iii. Getting married needs a mental preparation.

Getting Married

Getting married is having a husband or wife. It is one commitment between two persons to live together forever. It can be stated as a hard job and also an important thing in our life. It is cited like that because it must happen once in our life so we must prepare ourselves better in order to begin a new life. Of course, not all people can accept the changes easily in their life. In this term, we can say that getting married must be prepared best before. Having good preparation doesn't mean that everyone must be in their twenty fives. It means that getting married needs other things in order to construct a new story in our life. There are some reasons people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

People must dream that they will get married once in their life. Of course that they must know whether they, especially men, can take responsibility or not. In this term, getting married needs a big responsibility in constructing a household. Usually, the responsibility can be seen from the maturity. It means that people who are mature, very, very mature, must have big responsibility in order to construct a family. For men, the responsibility must be had because they will lead their family especially for the children. For women, the responsibility must be had by them as a wife in order to hold the household chores eventhough they will get a servant to help them. In this term, women will become a wife in managing the household chores and assisting their husband in constructing a family. In addition, men have very big responsibility in creating a harmony family because men must finance their family.

People live for many aspects. One of the aspects is social value. According to that statement, we can also know that getting married is influenced by social value. It means that getting married must be based on the good relationship whether it's from two persons who will get married or also from their family. We've ever heard that marriage which isn't based on good relationship will ruin next. Of course that we don't want it happens to us. So we must have good relationship with the girl or boy whom we marry and also his or her family. Marriage will be happy ever lasting if there is bless from the family especially from the parents.

Everything we do, will last successfully if we are really willing to do that. Moreover, it needs mental preparation to do what we want. The statements above are appropriate for getting married. Getting married needs mental preparation. When we want to get married, we must know whether we ourselves are really prepared to get something which is very, very new in our life. Moreover, we must think about the cause and effect. Of course that all people don't want to be lonely in this world. In this term, all people want to spend their time with person whom they love in their life in enjoying their life. In several instances, we must know whether we agree to lose ~~other~~ things that we usually get or do before. For example, a woman must provide her time to assist her husband or even to service her husband in preparing the breakfast for her husband even though she always gets her breakfast from her servant before. In addition, we must be ready to limit our time for our own activity such as having clubbing with friends, shopping together with friends, etc instead of spending our time with our husband or wife.

Getting married is a wonderful thing for us, but we must consider about it before we decide to get married. Beside, age can't be a standard that people should get married. because Getting married isn't based on age but from our need and those kinds of reason above in constructing happy family everlasting.

Introduction

The Suitable age for getting married

Being married, it means that two persons unite their life into one, take all their similarities and even their differences. The problem is that there is a controversy when two persons, a man and a woman, are mature enough ready to get married at the right time. The first assumption is people can be married when they are at least twenty five years. The second assumption is people can be married when they have finished senior high school (at eighteen or nineteen years old). In my opinion the best solution is the first assumption because there are reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years.

Body

1. Most people are mature enough when they are five years old
2. Most people do not have another important thing to do
3. At twenty five years old is an ideal age to get children

Closing

Based on reasons above, in my opinion that to get married at least at twenty five years is the good answer in happy marriage life because good planning, mature enough and marriage is your number one priority can bring happiness to marriage life and it will last forever.

The Suitable age for getting married

Being married, it means that two persons unite their life into one, unite all their similarities and even their differences. The problem is that there is a controversy when two persons, a man and a woman, are mature enough or ready to get married at the right time. The first assumption is people can be married when they are at least twenty five years old. The second assumption is people can be married when they have finished Senior high school (at eighteen or nineteen years old). In my opinion the best solution is the first assumption, because there are good reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

The first reason is most people are mature enough to get married when they are twenty five years old. At twenty five years old people almost know about married and everything about it. Building a family, raising children, and etc. Sometimes people have prepared everything before they get married, ^{without taking into} money from their work, a planning for their family. For example when people, a man and a woman, get married at twenty five years old, they have money from work because a husband or both of them work, money for their children. If there is a fight both of them will not act silly and mature enough not to do something stupid for example divorce and they are ready to face every problems between them whenever they come.

The second reason is most people do not have important things to do. When people get married, their family, husband, wife and children, should be the priority for example if you married while you are still in school or university that you are student, you will confuse which priority to do first, finish your study or keep your marriage life and you can not manage two lives that you are dealing, being student or being husband or wife. And when the time goes by I'm sure that you will break your marriage life.

The last reason is at twenty five years old is a good age to have children because they know what to do. For example at twenty five years old is a good condition for a woman to have children compare with having children at young age that it can be dangerous for the mother and the child at the pregnancy and labor time and for the father that he will not be worried how he will feed his wife and children because he has already worked and support his family needs.

Based on ✓ reasons above, in my opinion that to get married, at least twenty five years is the good answer in happy marriage life because good earning, mature enough and marriage is number one priority can bring happiness to marriage life and it will last forever.

The Suitable Age for Getting Married.

We know, as human being, we will get married someday. In order to get a child, we must get married first. Nowadays, there are many youngsters who get married in their young age. There are many causes that makes them get married in young age. For myself, I think that is not right. People should not get married until they are at least twenty-five years old. There are many reasons why. Here are some.

First. Usually, at the age of twenty-five, they are already mature enough to build a family. Mature here is in the psychological side. We know that there are many people who are already old enough (twenty or older) but they are still acting like a child. But, usually at the age of twenty-five they will change. At this age, usually they are already thinking about their future and what they will be. So, at this age they will be mature enough to get married and build a family.

Second. Usually at the age of twenty-five, they are already have a job. Of course, in marriage, we need money to fulfill the needs of the family, we can't be able to feed our family with love, right? So, before getting married, we should get a job first. And, after we ~~are~~ already have enough money, then we can get married. That would be better for us and our family. You can imagine if a homeless man gets married. What will he do to feed his family? If this happened, the family will suffer a lot. We don't want this happen to us, don't we?

Third. At this age, usually the couple have ~~know~~ know each other well. They are already know each other well, they won't feel worry easily about their partner. For example, the husband is coming late. If the wife already ~~know~~ know her husband well, she won't feel worry because she already know what her husband ~~is~~ is doing. cause it is already become a habit.

So, for myself, marriage is better to do at the age of twenty-five or more. Because at this age, we usually already have everything that we need to build a family. Also, we usually have already know everything (or almost everything) about our couple. so we can understand him / her well. G. it ... not ...

The Suitable Age For Getting Married

Introduction

Todaydays, we can easily find many young married couple. If we can ask them one by one we will get a simple answer: 'Because I love my girl friend' or 'Because I love my boy friend'. But behind those silly answer we can find a lot of the facts of being forced, for example because the girl is pregnant or because their parents want to give them in marriage and a lot of different answers that not make sense. But in my opinion, whatever reason that they have, people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old. I have three reasons to affirm my statement.

- People under 25 years old actually not ready with a marriage.
- If they have children, people under 25 years old can not teach and grow their children well.
- People under 25 years old have a bigger chance to get divorce with their couple compare with people above twenty five years old.

Many reasons that can make people married with their boyfriend or girlfriend in early ages. Love, for example. It is an easy reason for many young people to make the decision. But that reason, in my opinion can not guarantee to the family, when they soon get married, live happily in the future. Young people need many considerations to make a big decision, living with one same person for the rest of their life.

The Suitable Age for Getting Married

(Topic 2)

Nowadays, we can easily find many young married couples. If we can ask them one by one we will get a simple answer: "Because I love my girlfriend" or "Because I love my boyfriend." But behind those silly answers we can find a lot of the facts of being forced, for example because the girl is pregnant or because their parents want to give them in a marriage and a lot of different answers that not make sense. But in my opinion, whatever reason that they have, people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old. I have three reasons to affirm my statement.

The first is, people under twenty five years old actually not ready with a marriage. I mean that, in a marriage life, when two people live together, it will need a lot of money to run the house, and many of young married couple are unemployment, they just wait for their parents' money or just depend on the inheritance. They actually not prepare their marriage life well and that reason can make their family live in a not very good condition.

The second reason is; if they have children, people under twenty five years old can not grow and teach their children well. For example a married couple, who married by accident, they have a baby, but the mother still like to go to the mall and chat with her friends, the father do the same thing. That bad condition can make their baby grow in bad physical and psychological condition. A baby, in my opinion, needs a lot of love, care and attention from her/his parents. No matter what reason that make he/she beborn in this world, he/she needs to be taught, to be learnt, to be grows as other normal babies in this world.

The last reason is, people under twenty five years old have a bigger chance to get divorce compare with people above twenty five years old. Facing a marriage life, have one person to live with for a whole life is a heavy on. They need to know each other well, need to understand each other well, forgive each other and many s to make them live well. They have to cover their spouse's mistake and to fit out their spouse's lack. Why people

g suggested to married in at least twenty five years old? Because the young people usually can not do the above tion. They usually have their own opinion, own wishing to fulfil with out many consideration about their spouse.

f this condition running for years, it can make the couple get fighting and usually the short and easy way out divorce. In my opinion this is a very bad way-out of marriage life. But if the couple is already twenty five old or above they can at least try to understand what their spouse's want, and the marriage can be saved.

Many reasons that can make people married with their girlfriends or boyfriends. Love, for example, it is an reason for many young people to make the decision. But that reason, in my opinion, can't guarantee to the when they soon get married, live happily in the future. Young people need many considerations to make a decision; living with one same person for the rest of their life.

The suitable Age for Getting Married.

Marriage is a legal union of a man and woman as husband and wife.

In general, man and woman should get married if they come of age. But nowadays, many people were get married under the age of 20 years old. Although in this age, people still have to learn much to enrich their experience before they get married. There are some reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

People who get married under the age of twenty years old, they do not have enough experienced to face the problem in their marriage. Many people end their marriage with divorce. This is caused by the fact that a couple do not have enough experienced to face and solve the problem, sometime they try to solve the problem with quarrel with their partner but they still do not find the way out.

People under the age of twenty five years old, sometime they do not understand how to make a good marriage because they still do not think about the responsibility in marriage like how to handle the household chores, take care of their children etc. Before they married many things that related with handling the household is usually done by their mother. So only a few woman can handle the household problem successful.

People under the age of twenty five years old, sometime still take children. They still despite everything to their parents. A young couple will feel strange with the different situation between before and after they get married. This situation can make not know what should they do as a good husband and wife. Finally if they get problem, they would not try to find the solution together but they choose to get divorce.

as a conclusion, get married should be done by people that have enough experienced and they really want to be married. So people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old or people that really have enough experienced in marriage.

Topic: The suitable Age for Getting Married.

Introduction
In this era, we can still find that parents often force their children to get married in young age or teenagers that want to get married as soon as possible because he or she loves their spouse very much. I think that a marriage life is not as simple as we think. There are a lot of considerations that should be thought before and after someone gets married. That's why, I think that people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

Someone who is ready to get married should be mature physically and mentally.

In the age of twenty-five it's time for them to start their career because it is time to be productive.

People who are getting married in the young age are risky to having children.

After we knew all of the problem or risks that often happens to the people who are getting married in young age.

Getting Married after twenty-five?

In this era, we can still find that parents often force their children to get married ~~in~~ young age or teenagers that want to get married as soon as possible because he or she loves his or her spouse very much. In my opinion, a marriage life is not simple as we think. There are a lot of considerations that should be thought before ~~and~~ ~~after~~ someone gets married. That's why, I think that people should not married until they are at least twenty-five years old.

The first consideration that someone who is ready to get married should be mature physically and mentally. Most ~~of~~ people usually physically ready to get married but are not ready mentally. That's why, we often see many spouses get divorce ~~at~~ two or three years ~~later~~ after they get married. I think, someone more mature after he or she has already ~~in~~ the age of twenty five years old or more than that. So, it will easier for them to solve their problem because they have already ~~have~~ a lot experiences.

The second consideration why people should not married until they are at least twenty-five years old because it's time for them to start their career. ~~In~~ the age of twenty up to for about thirty, it is the time to be productive. Many companies usually look for employees who are still young and haven't married yet. So, I think it is a big chance for young people who pursue their career.

Last people who get married ~~in~~ young ages is risky to having a baby or if it's not, they will get a disease because of having children in a very young age. This disease usually happened in women. Beside that, the parents usually doesn't have enough information to educate the children or giving a nutritious food for their child while the mother is still pregnant. So, ~~is~~ we can see there are a lot of children that having mentally defect.

After we have known the risk or the problems that often happened to the people who are ~~marriage~~ in young age or before twenty-five years old, I think that we ^{should} start thinking twice before we enter a marriage life.

For example they have responsibility to keep and finance their family. Nowadays, many people who have age before twenty five years old do not have enough preparation and responsibility. There are two reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

(The first), get married after twenty five years old can avoid a divorce. In that age people can more wise to take decision. For example if they have a problem, they can solve their problem together. When our age not enough to get married, we can't solve our problem and sometimes it can be a dispute. If we get enough preparation before married we can easy to believe to our husband or our wife. It is more easy to communicate with people who have enough age than people who do not have enough age. Usually divorce is causes by people who do not believe with their partner or family. When they already have a child, divorce can give bad effect for them. From that reason, government make a rules that people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old. If that age people have already get married.

(The second) a husband or a wife can fulfil their responsibility. As a husband he must fulfil their family's need. For example if they have a child, the should give enough education and health. If his family have a problem, he should solve their problem. As a wife, she should keep her husband and her child. Many people who get married before twenty five years old can not do all of that responsibility. They usually lose this responsibility by divorce or another ways. When it happened, it can give bad effect for their family especially for their child.

The Suitable Age for Getting Married

Getting married is one of human's purposes. It has one specific purpose which is to continue the human's generation. Getting married is not the easiest thing as people wonder it so far. When we decide to get married, it means that we are ready to get the benefits and the effects of married. Nowadays, as we have seen, the teenagers who are under twenty-five years old, many of them have already married. But also there are many divorces happened among them. That is why, we should have an enough age and we should already have the responsibilities in getting married. People should not get married until they are at least twenty-five years old.

Recently, ^{many of} the teenagers who are under twenty-five years old, they have already married. It causes many things such as, the girls have already pregnant, or the parents' desire and others. But it is not good for them, I am, as the writer, sure about this. Many of the teenagers, who are already married, they do not have their independent.

In fact, many of them depend on their parents because they cannot make the happy family and especially for the man, cannot enough their family needs. In their age, there must be a lot of quarrels happened. So, they will not be a happy family.

When we are in a twenty-five years old, we are ready to get the benefits and the effects of getting married. When we are in this age, our minds are not only full of emotions, having fun or others. Here, we could think the future, destiny and how to make a happy family. Especially to men, they have already worked and it is one of the requirements to make a happy family. By working, they have enough money to buy the family needs. For the women, they will not do anything for herself only but they must serve their husband and also their child. Here, both men and women, they will not only use their emotional but also their mind to think how to make a happy family.

There are many requirements of getting married in general. First of all, the men and the women should have enough age that is at least twenty-five years old. The second, the men should work because they have the big responsibility to make up their family needs. optionally, women can also work but if the husband have an enough payment, she should not.

The last one is, they should have the same purpose that is to make the happy family in their lives. If they have the same purpose like that, the divorce will not invite them in a better life.

Getting married is not the easiest thing. People must be ready before they decide to get married. that is why, when they are at least twenty-five years old, they are easy to get married. In this age, they can make up a happy family in their lives.

They have own reasons why people should not getting married until they are at least twenty five years old.

First reason is the age under twenty five basically their psychology is not stable. They are still labile. They are still thinking based on their rational. They also childish to decide something. They commonly think for that time but not for long time. For example when a couple arguing they frequently can not control their behavior and they usually argue for a simple thing. When the problems more complicated they usually choose divorce because they're not ready. Sometimes people measure the person's psychology with the age. When they're under 25 it means they're still childish.

and reasons is they are not ready in economic financial. People usually graduated in school at age 23 or 24 years old and after that they will working. It's not enough get much money in only a year. There are many things to buy after married for example a car and it's very expensive. There are more complicated when they have a baby should buy milk, clothes and they also should think about their children's education. For example in the real situation, many of couples stay with their parents after they're married and sometimes they're quarrel each other. That's bad condition and reason is Indonesian law is not allowed to get married when they're not 25 years old for woman and 27 years old for man. It's very clear. Government measure people based on age. Under twenty five years old is still childish. After twenty five and twenty years old is an ideal age to get married. That age is not too young and not too old for woman and man to get married.

people choose not to get married until they are at least twenty five years old because basically the age under 25 the psychology is not stable, second they are not ready financial and the last the regulation not allowed to get married when they are not 25 for woman and 27 years old for man.

The Suitable Age for Getting Married.

Marriage is a unity between 2 people with 2 different characteristics by human and God. It is a bond between 2 people as they are husband and wife. Once they promise to love each other until they die, they have to keep that for the rest of their lives. Marriage is sacred so we have to be serious and think about the good and the bad. Before we decide to get married, we should consider a few things like the suitable age for getting married. There's statement?

People should not get married until they are at least 25 years old. Usually, at age 25 or more people consider that they are mature, people in that age can be responsible in what they do, not only that they respect and realize how important a marriage is. But, people in age less than 25 they usually think about themselves, they don't know how sacred a marriage is. ^{was} they still want to ^{have fun} and cannot be responsible in what they do.

People in age at least 25, usually have a work to earn some money so they are ready to get married. If someone is not working how can they earn money to fulfill the family needs, it is the reason why age 25 is suitable for people to get married because they are ready to fulfill their wives and children needs.

Usually, someone who married in young age cannot keep their marriage any divorce happen because the couple are marriage in age less than 25 age less than 25 is not suitable for marriage because at that age people is not ready to take all the responsible, they still depend on their parents and they don't know what to do in their marriage.

from, the reasons above we know that the suitable age for married is at least 25 years old because on that age people are mature, can responsible in what they do, and also they can fulfill their family needs and not depend on their parents. if people married in that age divorce number can be decreased.

The suitable Age for Getting married

Married is a celebration for a couple who love each other and become one called husband and wife. Getting married is not simple because we need many preparation for examples: the food, the dress, the guests and especially the wedding party? One important thing that we have to give attention is the age of the couple. Some people said a couple couldn't get married until they are at least twenty five years old and I agree with it. There are some reasons why I agree with it

The first reason is the age influences the ready of individual. Each person must be ready in a mental and physic. Commonly new women or men will ready if their age at least 25 years old even though some of them younger than 25 years. Men and women who have already twenty - five years old usually have vision and mission for their life rather than a man or a woman who have just twenty one until two three.

The second reason is they usually have saving and job. They had ready worked in many places so they knew the hard of business. Beside that they usually are wisely than a young couple. because young man just begin to fulfill the needs of their family. Sometimes a young man failure in their new job, From at they learn from their mistake and try again. A man who has already twenty-five or more experience in job so they can teach who they want and they get become a success person.

Married is important thing that's why we must prepare as good as we can.

old.

- ~ The couple are not ready to faced the problem in a household
- ~ The couple are not ready to be a good parents in a household.

Conclusion

In conclusion, a married is something that must be thought well before we do it.

A married is not a game that we must play it but married is a way to make a good family.

To reach a good family and eternal married the couple must be ready for everything.

So that, it is better for the people should get married when they are at least twenty five years old.

the composition.

The suitable age for Getting Married

In our life married is a good way to make our life become wonderful. Married is something that must be done for each couple to make a family. To make a family by doing married is not easy because we must be ready for everything when we face the problem. Nowadays, married in a young age is a trend and most of them can't solve the problem in their married so that they decide to divorce.

Divorce won't be happened if the couple can make a good relationship and married in a suitable age.

There are some reasons why people should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old.

The first reason is the couple are not ready to fulfill the needs of the household. A young couple who get married never think about the risk of their married. When they decide to married in a young age, they never think how to fulfill their daily needs. In this case automatically their parents help their financial in the household. It can make the couple can't stand alone, they always depend to their parents because their money can't fulfill all the needs. This problem can be one important problem in their married because the quarrel must be happened because of money.

The second reason is the couple are not ready to face the problem in a household. A couple who get married in a young age can't control their emotions. In a young soul, their emotion always getting higher because they are too childish in face a problem. In a married, we must face many of problems. We must control our emotions when we face the problem but young couple don't know how to control their emotion because they defend their ego. This situation can bring the other problem which can make the quarrel happen every day.

The third reasons is the couple are not ready to be a good parents in a household.

A couple who decided to get married under twenty years old is very danger to born a baby. Many doctors said that having a baby need an ability to take care the baby. Having and take care a baby is not easy. A woman who has age of twenty five years old must have the soul of being a mother.

Being a parents for our children is the hard job. The couple who still childish can't be able to take care and having a baby. A baby or children need a good parents for make them become a good children too. If we as a couple can't give the best thing for the children, the children become a bad child. A young woman can't be the best mother for her baby because she doesn't know what she must give to the baby. A young man also can't be the best father for his baby because he still want to be free and having fun outside, he can't carry that responsible. In this situation the quarrel must happen because of their baby.

In conclusion a married is something that must be thought well before we do it. A married is not a game that we must play it but married is a way to make a good family. To reach a good family and eternal married the couple must be ready for everything. So that, it's better for the couple should get married when they are at least twenty five year old.

THE SUITABLE AGE FOR GETTING MARRIED

Introduction.

Marrying someone is important decision. In our life we must marry someone and promise to love our pair forever. Before that we must sure we find pair appropriate with our criteria. Finally, we must realize with age, because it is very important. People shouldn't married until they are at least twenty five years old.

Across household is hard way.

- We are use emotion to solve problem on household.
- We are easy to fight with our pair.
- Very difficult to adapt with other person.
- We want to consider most important our coriouscity.
- We always take step to selfish with our pair.

Conclusion.

We must pass household life, and pass it with other people. We must adapt with other people, because in household there are two people become one. For pass it, we must reach the suitable age. Usually, twenty five yearsold is suitable for use to marry, because in that age we can growing and understand the people behaviour.

THE SUITABLE AGE FOR GETTING MARRIED

Marrying someone is an important decision. In our life we must pass it and promise to love our pair forever. Usually, we are doing marry just once and it's for forever. Before that we must be sure that we find appropriate pair, and that's people must appropriate with our criteria, too. Finally, we must realize age, because it is very important. People shouldn't married until they are at least twenty five years old.

Household is very difficult to pass. There are so many problem in household life. We must solve problem together wisely, because if we are solve problem with our emotion, the problem can't finish fastly. Usually, on household life if we are marry before twenty five years, we must do our activity with emotion, it can make we are easy to fight with our pair. It can make household divorce fastly.

The second reason, it's very difficult to adapt with other people. Sometimes, we don't understand and angry with husband because he is very busy with his activity, we think that our corrigosity is more important than everything. We always take steps to selfish with our pair. It mean that husband only for wife, not for other people. So if our husband's friend disturb for bussiness, we are angry with husband.

can make husband angry with us.

The third reason, if we are married before twenty years old, we don't have experience to pass household life. We don't know how to choose the right list of menu for husband. We can't know how to put in order the kitchen and it's can our husband angry and disatisfied with our serve.

Introduction.
Every people wants to get married, because they want to continue their generations. If they want to get married, they must know about the age. Marriage in the young age isn't good for the couple especially for their children, because it ~~isn't~~ can influence their growth. People should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old, maybe they can get married around twenty seven years old. In that age, they have enough experience.

- Outline:
- i. Why ^{many} people wants to get married under twenty-five years old?
 - ii. The effect when they get married in the young age.
 - iii. What's the suitable age to compose family?

Marriage In the Young Age.

Every people wants to get married because they want to continue their generations. Marriage isn't easy to do, they have to know many things, and prepare it carefully, especially for their children. A couple who wants to get married ~~to~~ should have a permanent income, house, etc. they can compose their new family. If the couple do not prepare it will be influence for their children/growth. Many people said.

that a couple should not get married until they are at least twenty five years old, maybe they should get married after twenty five years old, because in that age, they should be independently. ~~There is state~~

How many people is getting married in the young age? Why they do that? Many reasons for answering that questions: For the example married by accident, parents give in marriage for their daughter, etc. But, the other reasons, people do not want to have children in the old age, because they worry about their children growth, especially their education. Actually, it isn't true that children growth be influenced by the age, but depends on the couple-self.

Many effect can be happened if they get married in the young age. Young couple still can't control their emotions, they don't enough experience to compose family. Example about the family income, sometimes it isn't enough to meet their needs, and this situations can be more crowded because the couple fight each other. because they feel their opinion is the best. This is the reason why they can't control their emotions. If they are mature, they know what should they do to finish their problems without emotion. Other effect is they don't know how to take control their baby / children, because they don't have enough experience. Usually they for taking care their baby / children to baby-sitter. It isn't or children psychic, because they can't be closer and know with parents.

In my opinion, the suitable age for composing family is around five years old because they already prepare for psychic and beside their income. In that age, they can live independently though they do get married yet. So, if people want to get ed, they have to prepare anything because marriage isn't me. We live with our parents until twenty-five years old, but it live with our couple around thirty or forty years, ~~so~~ we to know how we are ready to compose family.

At last, marriage isn't easy to do. If we aren't ready, we don't to do, because many things can be happened in the age and can change our whole life, so we have to be ready at Marriage will be so fun, if we prepare it goodly.
